Work on Compromise Plan Eisenhower, Macmillan Meet

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan meet today to work out a compromise offer to the Soviet Union for banning nuclear weapons tests. Their success in avoiding a British-American split over the issue seemed assured.

During the two or three days they will spend together at Camp David, Md., the two allied leaders will also make a pre-summit review of relations with the Soviet Union. They may lay down some new guidelines for development of proposals to be put before Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev at the Big Four summit meeting at Paris beginning May 16.

Before flying with Eisenhower to Camp David this afternoon, Macmillan was scheduled to confer with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter at the British Embassy.

The U.S. and British positions on the Soviet Union's latest test control plan were said to be very similar with both sides now favoring a positive counter-proposal.

The urgent problem before the President and prime minister is to shape a reply to a Soviet proposal for banning all nuclear weapons tests—most of them by formal treaty and the remainder, small underground tests, by common agreement on an indefinite moratorium.

The United States had proposed that any treaty now should exempt small underground nuclear blasts because it said they are too difficult to distinguish from small earthquakes.

Eisenhower and Macmillan may agree to approve a moratorium on the small underground blasts, but to impose a time limit of one or two years.

Without specific inspection provisions covering the smaller blasts, many officials in the Eisenhower administration also have felt that the proposed moratorium would create a grave risk of Soviet cheating in the development of nuclear weapons. Some reportedly favored rejecting the Soviet proposition.

But the British government and many officials in the State Department here feared the impact on world opinion of a negative reply from the United States. They saw grave danger of a split with Britain.

Italian Delegate Submits Plan at Geneva Confab

Satellite Control,
Surveillance of Arms
Budgets Included

GENEVA (AP) — The Western powers today introduced a detailed plan for a vast organization to control every step of a world disarmament treaty.

Italian delegate Francesco Cavaletti introduced the plan at the 10-nation disarmament conference on behalf of the five Western powers. Cavaletti said the proposed International Disarmament Organization must have far wider functions than a mere check on agreed arms cuts. His plan called for permanent surveillance of national military budgets and military maneuvers, as well as control of all satellite and missile launchings.

Makes No Comment
Soviet delegate Valerian Zorin made no comment. Instead, he again demanded that the conference begin by agreeing on "general and complete disarmament" and deal with control provisions later.

Western officials said today's session of the conference this produced no progress, but the relaxed atmosphere of the first two weeks of the conference was maintained. Cavaletti defined the functions of the IDO in 10 basic points.

- He said IDO should:
1. Receive advance notice on launching of any satellite and detailed reports on the satellite's course.
  2. Obtain detailed information on existing level of armed forces and conventional armaments.
  3. Verify any agreed limitations or reductions.
  4. Collect and verify information on national budgets of all countries, including total amounts devoted to military purposes and percentage of military expenditure in total government outlay.
  5. Install a worldwide system for control of artificial satellites capable of carrying weapons of mass destruction.
  6. Receive prior notice on launching of any long-range missile.
  7. Organize a system to control as agreed cutoff of production of nuclear weapons.
  8. Organize a system to super-

According to the Rev. William L. Woodall, pastor, the new section will be brick faced to conform to the present building and will contain five classrooms, a kitchen and a dining room. He said the committees formed to promote the construction include Building Committee, Joseph Woodward, Harry Steele, Wayne Raub, Carl Kelm, and Mrs. Gladys Souder, and the Financial Committee, A. S. Wilmut, Dr. Paul Conrad, Richard Rose, Miss Carrie Truesdale, and Miss Ruth Prior.

'Tantalizing' Leads Discovered New Cancer-Virus Link Is Reported

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Top virus experts today presented new and surprising evidence that human cancers probably are caused by viruses.

They also reported that some viruses, contrary to current scientific opinion, can produce substances which destroy cancers.

If specific viruses can be pinpointed in human cancers, new methods might be developed to prevent or control the disease.

"Every man is a walking museum of many viruses," Dr. Jerome T. Syvertson of the University of Minnesota told a seminar for science writers sponsored by the American Cancer Society.

Man harbors more than 150 viruses, mostly just recently detected, and "we are not sure what many of them do," he said. But "now we believe that some human cancers must be caused by viruses."

Dr. Sarah Stewart of the National Cancer Institute, Bethesda, Md., reported that extracts from two human cancers, and from the urine of three children with cancer have produced curious, cancer-killing substances.

Gets Big Welcome In Marseille Enthusiastic Crowd Storms Khrushchev

MARSEILLE, France (AP)—An enthusiastic crowd broke through police lines today and nearly overran Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Leaving the enclosed yard of a children's school he had visited, he mistook which car door to enter, and the crowd eventually thought he was coming over to get acquainted.

The wave of men and women stormed through the police line, shouting and waving red flags. Khrushchev was surrounded.

The expression on the Premier's face indicated he did not find the experience completely agreeable. He stood in the crush until police rescued him and didn't try to shake a single hand.

A cordon of police on foot and with motorcycles quickly pushed in and formed around Khrushchev, then escorted him to his car.

Earlier in his tour of the French provinces Khrushchev showed signs that he thought he was seeing too much of French industry and not enough of the French people.

The gregarious Soviet premier has remained good natured but at times showed impatience at the tightly packed schedule of official receptions, dinners and guided tours of historic sights and industrial plants.

Visits to factories and agricultural installations leave him unimpressed. He mixes polite compliments for French achievements with statistics on similar Soviet activities that clearly show Khrushchev thinks they do it bigger and better in the Soviet Union.

The urge to mix with the people came over him Sunday at Pau. Breaking away from the official itinerary, he made a spur-of-the-moment excursion into the streets. At his smiling best, he shook hands with persons clustered on the sidewalk outside the prefecture, where he had spent the night.

Marseille, France's big Mediterranean port city, which has a heavy concentration of Communists, gave the Soviet premier the warmest welcome since he arrived in France Wednesday for a 11-day visit.

Two Boys Are Held For Burglaries

Two boys, 10 and 12 years of age, were to appear in Juvenile Court at Lisbon this morning on charges of breaking and entering.

The two were arrested by Salem police at 10:30 p.m. Saturday night just as they emerged from an alley between Broadway and Lundy Ave. on Pershing. Police said the boys were carrying flashlights when they were picked up. After questioning at police headquarters, the two admitted 10 break-ins at local business places.

Victimized by the youthful thieves were the Select Dairy, three times, Kuppy's Baker, American Laundry, two times, Salem Auto Supply two times; Ash Millinery, and Alessi's Market, police said.

10 Cardinals Created by Pope Names of Three To Remain Secret

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII today created 10 new cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church, including three whose names will remain secret until some future date.

The new cardinals previously named for elevation included the first Negro, the first Japanese and the first Filipino prince of the church. One Italian newspaper called it the "rainbow consistory."

"Quod vobis videtur. (What do you think of it?)" the pontiff asked at the end of his Latin allocution naming the new cardinals. Thirty-seven previous cardinals, meeting with the Pope behind the massive closed doors of the Vatican's Consistorial Hall, silently removed their skullcaps in assent.

Two papal emissaries at once began a round of calls to deliver the official notification, or big lie, to the seven new cardinals waiting at various church centers in the Vatican or in Rome.

The secret consistory today was the first in a series of ceremonies. The climax will come Thursday in the colorful public consistory in St. Peter's Basilica at which the new cardinals receive their traditional red hats, the broad-brimmed, low-crowned galeros.

The seven new princes of the church who had been designated by Pope John on March 3 are Bishop Laurian Rugambwa, 47, of Rutaba, Tanganyika, the college's first Negro member; Archbishop Peter Tatuso Dio, 67, of Tokyo; Archbishop Rufino J. Santos, 51, of Manila; Archbishop Bernard Jan Alfrink, 59, of Utrecht, Netherlands; Archbishop Joseph Lefebvre, 67, of Bourges, France; and the Most Rev. Luigi Traglia, 64, and the Most Rev. Antonio Bacci, 64, both Italian members of the Vatican Curia.

'Tis Spring
Warm Temperatures
Arrive Week Late,
But It's Great

Spring is here, although one week late. It came Sunday, with a bright sun and warm temperatures.

The snows melted fast, although not completely, and the spring air attracted countless people to the outdoors.

Crocuses blossomed forth, as if they had been waiting all week to parade onto nature's spring stage. Children frolicked in the outdoors Sunday as the mercury climbed toward the 50's. Many motorists took to the highways for an enjoyable Sunday drive, going nowhere in particular but just getting out.

The average citizen was ready to try and forget the severe snowstorms of the past few weeks. The spring weather acted like a tonic.

The Ohio Weather Bureau forecasts warmer temperatures for Tuesday, colder Wednesday, but Tuesday again Thursday and Friday, with a strong likelihood of rain the last half of the week. Temperatures are expected to be six degrees above normal.

Cleveland Union Figure Cited Teamster Gunrunning Plot Bared by Probers

WASHINGTON — Senate rackets probers took credit today for preventing $300,000 in Teamster Union money from being spent on a 1959 plot to smuggle arms to Cuba and the Dominican Republic.

In a report, they singled out as principals in the "plot" Louis (Babe) Triscaro, president of Cleveland Teamster Local 436, and three other men.

Triscaro and the others, said the report, "were involved at various stages in the bizarre plot to use surplus U. S. planes to smuggle arms to the Caribbean area, which was nipped in the bud by U. S. customs agents."

"The committee is satisfied that its active interest in these developments was all that prevented another $300,000 of Teamster funds from being committed to the financing of this venture."

Names along with Triscaro were Benjamin Dranow of Miami; S. George Burris, a New York accountant and his son, Herbert R. Burris, a New York lawyer.

The report said the plan—never consummated—was to sell planes and arms to Cuba shortly after Fidel Castro took over and to the Dominican Republic.

The report claimed Triscaro was in communication with Teamsters President James R. Hoffa during arrangements.

Elsewhere in the report, the committee reviewed the activities of Ohio Teamsters President William Presser, recently convicted of contempt of Congress, and former Sen. George H. Bender (R-Ohio).

The senators noted that Hoffa named Bender, in August 1958, chairman of an antiracketeering commission within the Teamsters.

Ten months later, Bender was before the committee as a voluntary witness and admitted that nothing has been done although he does have "some recommendations" the report said.

"It also appears in the record that the commission has not even held a meeting since December 1958."

Senate Group Blasts Hoffa Calls Union Chief Ally of Gangsters

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate rackets committee today invited the courts and executive agencies to swing any Sunday punch that might be aimed at removing James R. Hoffa as Teamsters Union president.

The committee, in a report to the Senate, called Hoffa an ally of gangsters, betrayer of fellow unionists, and a corrupter of men.

Ending three years of investigation, during which it repeatedly called him a disgrace to the labor movement, the committee voiced this unanimous declaration: "From this point on, the fate and future of James R. Hoffa rest with the executive and judicial branches of the government, the monitors (a court appointed group created to try to police the Teamsters) and inevitably with his own members."

"The decent elements of organized labor have hung a pariah's label" on Hoffa, the committee said, renewing its 1956 finding that he should be ousted.

"If Hoffa is successful in combatting the combined weight of the U.S. government and public opinion, the cause of decent unionism is lost and labor-management relations in this country will return to the jungle era," it said.

"Plundering of union treasuries

Founded Here 4 Years Ago, Plant Has Expanded Twice

Tooling Aids, Inc., Is Thriving Industry

The cry for more industry in the Salem area almost drowns out the steady hum of the working machinery in some of the area's smaller industries.

One of these small operations is Tooling Aids Inc. which next week will begin its fourth year of production, proudly boasting an almost constant growth in product, sales, employment and in physical plant.

Located just south of Salem on the Newgarden Rd., Tooling Aids is the maker of many products including die models, patterns, and plastic tooling fixtures.

ITS GROWTH PATTERN can be readily seen in some of the facts regarding its short lifetime as related by W. Leeds Frye, president and treasurer of the firm.

Employment figures show a recent high of 13 men on the payrolls and a normal of 9 to 10 men. A payroll of $60,000-plus is anticipated this year.

Monthly sales have tripled, with further gains expected during 1960.

Mr. Frye points out that his firm is always on the alert for new products and customers. The firm currently has customers as far away as Maryland and Mississippi.

TWICE IN THE THREE YEARS of its existence Tooling Aids has added physically to its plant. In 1957, a building was added for the storage of materials and in 1959, the manufacturing space was doubled by construction of another addition. The firm has also acquired machinery and equipment so that better products can be produced more efficiently, Mr. Frye explains.

Expansion in the varieties of products and processes is continuing. Frye revealed that Tooling Aids is currently filling growing orders for the military services.

The plant, during 1959, worked on the development and production of a plastic part used in an improved submarine speedometer, manufactured a number of plastic parts for antennae systems of submarines, made of high temperature plastic tooling for missile construction and plastic fixtures for the aircraft industry, and made plaster and plastic tooling for use in stretchforming aircraft parts.

Frye believes that one reason the company's orders are increasing is because customers have gained confidence in the quality and reliability of the service available.

TOOLING AIDS was founded by Mr. Frye on April 1, 1957, and was owned and operated by him as a proprietorship until May 1, 1959, when it was incorporated. At the start, the company's only employee was Joseph LaMonica.

In summing up the operation, Frye said, "We believe that Tooling Aids has gone through its most difficult period. We hope to continue growing in order to make a bigger contribution to our Salem community."

"We recently employed experienced sales agents; we hope to add at least one major product line in 1960, we now have adequate facilities for efficient production, and, most important, we have a cooperative and experienced work force."

MR. FRYE CAME TO SALEM in 1952, working in marketing research at the former Mullins plant. He later became manager of marketing research. In 1955, he went to United Tool and Die Inc. as sales manager and later was assigned the task of setting up a plastics department. He left United to start Tooling Aids.

Directors of the firm are Judson S. Smith, vice president, of Lebanon, N. J., who is also an officer in several small companies and who, at one time, owned a seat on the New York Stock Exchange; Atty. Ralph Atkinson; Robert Barr, assistant treasurer; Frank Knecht of Warren, former vice president of Youngstown Kitchens Division and currently a vice president of the Sharon Steel Corporation; and Jean N. Tariot of Weston, Mass., assistant to the vice president of Radio Corporation of America.

Two of the most offensive advertising campaigns, at least to me, are directed at body odor and honest sweat. One gains the impression that romance is repulsed by the smell of the normal skin and its complement of sweat and oil glands, that love flies in as soon as perfume and an antiperspirant are applied.

A risk of adverse comments from psychoanalysts, amateur and professional, I must include myself in the ranks of those who take greatest delight in the odor of the freshly bathed skin, especially that of an infant. And there is something indescribably pleasant in the fresh odor of a boy or girl returning excitedly from vigorous play.

Contrariwise, I look with suspicion on the highly perfumed man or woman just as I have my doubts about a meat course that's served with a heavy covering of a highly spiced sauce.

HOWEVER, if you are one who feels the need of toiletries, I suggest you try a sample of each new product on some hidden area before you apply it to your face or armpits.

A fair proportion of the office population of most dermatologists is made up of patients who've developed rashes from cosmetics of one type or another (shaving lotions, lip stick, wave-setting fluids, hair dyes and curlers, deodorants, and anti-perspirants.)

You might even consider placing complete reliance on soap and water, liberally applied, before that "heavy date."

Disability Provisions Of Social Security Explained

"Many people in the Columbiana and Mahoning County area have been asking about the disability provisions of the Social Security Act," William J. McCauley, Manager of the Youngstown Social Security District Office, declared today.

"These provisions have drawn the interest of some people who are temporarily out of work because of an injury," Mr. McCauley continued. However, the law was not written to insure the risk of temporary disability.

Mr. McCauley explained that under the law the definition of disability is "inability to engage in any substantial gainful activity." The condition must be expected to continue indefinitely or to result in death. I can be either physical or mental, but it must be so severe that it is not likely to be improved by medical treatment to the point of making it possible to return to work.

An example might be a worker who breaks a leg. He knows he will probably be off the job for as much as three months. This might have some effect on his social security record, but when his whole working history is considered upon retirement, the effect would be small.

This worker would have every reason to believe he would return to work within the foreseeable future. For this reason, his disability, because it is temporary, would not qualify him under the social security disability provisions, Mr. McCauley says.

On the other hand, a worker who discovers he has a severe case of tuberculosis that prevents him from doing any kind of work, has no way of knowing when he will be able to return to work. When he has been disabled six months, he can apply for benefits if he is age 50 or over, or to have his record frozen if he is under age 50.

Mr. McCauley noted there are other requirements that must be met before a worker's social security record can be frozen or benefits can be paid. Among these is the work requirement which states that a worker must have social security credit for at least five out of the ten years prior to his date of disability.

Anyone who needs further information is invited to contact the Youngstown Social Security Office by phone, by mail or in person. The people there will be happy to explain to you your rights under the Social Security Act. The address is 123 W. Commerce St., Youngstown.

Be Careful With Tanning Aids, Cosmetics

So great is the fad for suntanning that it is difficult to get ardent sun bathers to realize some of the risks they run.

Long ago, tuberculosis specialists called attention to worsening of an infection following excessive exposure to the "healing rays" of the sun.

Skin specialists have noted a relationship between skin cancers and occupational exposure to the sun among sailors and farmers. And the body may react to an acute sunburn just as it does to a burn from heat or fire with high fever, delirium and evidences of intense kidney irritation.

Sports, Recreation Facilities Demanded by Home Seekers

More and more home seekers are demanding that the house they buy or build must contain adequate facilities for sports and recreation, reports the Institute of Home Designers.

This requirement in homes has grown along with the greater leisure time which families now enjoy, the Institute reports, and for this reason a basement recreation room has become a "must." It adds:

"When such a room has adequate light, air and access to the outdoors, it frequently becomes the most popular area in the house. The living room on the main floor becomes the 'showroom' which can always be kept tidy for visitors.

"Although most basement recreation rooms are built for the children, they frequently are used just as extensively by the adults in the house. Some rooms are used many hours each day for television viewing. And many home owners install pianos, radios, phonographs, and such sporting equipment as table tennis, billiard tables, golf practice sets and shuffle board.

"To make them fully usable, recreation rooms should have an exit directly to the exterior as well as accessibility to the rooms upstairs. A basement recreation room can then be reached from both the exterior and the interior without going through other rooms of the house. When a playroom has its own outside exit, youngsters can bring friends in and out without disturbing the family upstairs. The outside exit also makes it convenient to carry furniture, cleaning equipment, etc., in and out.

"Development of modern construction methods makes building a basement recreation room one of the most economical projects in the house. When a home is under construction, a recreation room can be provided at low cost. Simply make certain that the basement has its own outside exit, enough windows for light and air, and sufficient heating outlets so that it can be kept warm on wintry days.

"An outside exit together with the stairwell, steps to the grade, and a metal hatchway cover for protection against the elements, can be installed at a reasonable cost in any section of the country."

Many Owners Want to Move, Survey Shows

Are you discontented with your present house? If your answer is yes, don't feel that you're different. According to the Institute of Home Designers, surveys have revealed that 40 per cent of families in the middle income group are so dissatisfied that they would move if an early opportunity presented itself.

Main reason for discontent is lack of adequate space, the institute says. Many families need more space for recreation, storage and workroom facilities than their present home provides.

Families with large basements being utilized to the fullest possible extent are generally much more satisfied with their existing home, the Institute says. And many home owners have ended their dissatisfaction and become enthusiastic about finishing off their basement, and doubling the value of the new improvements by providing a separate basement exit to the outdoors.

In some cases, separate "apartments" with full facilities for family living — kitchen and bathroom — have been created in basements. The new apartments have their own door leading to the exterior.

'Working Wall' Solves Problem In Family Room

A small family room will render "king size" service if the new Masonite Panelok wall system is installed. This "working wall" system, which has slotted lockstrips between each hardboard panel to support a variety of adjustable shelves and fixtures, is extremely practical.

The fittings can easily be inserted in or removed from the steel lockstrips, which have slots every inch, so that the fixtures may be suspended from the walls at any height.

Among the fixtures available with this system are a variety of heavy-duty wire shelves. Shelf brackets of different sizes make it easy to support art objects or books, or to build cabinets, tables or desks.

Either plain or woodgrained Masonite panels are available with the Panelok system. The plain panels can be primed and painted, while the woodgrained panels should be given a coat of wax, lacquer or varnish after installation to protect the finish and bring out the rich luster of the graining.

Here's The Answer

QUESTION: We have a masonry house. There are small openings around the window frames. I would like to caulk them to prevent leaks. Will the caulking compound cling to the masonry as well as the wooden window frames?

ANSWER: Yes, caulking compound will stick to masonry, wood and dozens of other materials. That's one of its chief assets. Before applying the new compound, be sure to remove all old caulking that is the least bit loose. Use an old chisel or screwdriver for this purpose. You can apply the compound with a caulking gun, with a putty knife or directly from a tube, depending on which type you buy. A caulking gun is the most effective, especially when the project is a major one. For most small jobs, the tube is easy to handle. While the surface of the compound will harden, the underneath portion will retain its elasticity for years. This enables it to expand and contract if and when there is any expansion and contraction of the building materials.

QUESTION: The back door of our house leading out to the patio rattles whenever there is the slightest wind. How can this be fixed?

ANSWER: This rattling is caused whenever the latch bolt does not fit properly in the strike plate. The bolt moves around in the opening of the strike plate, probably due to settling of the house or drying out of the door or frame. To correct the condition, it usually is necessary to reposition the strike plate on the door jamb. Remove the two screws that hold the plate in position. Now mark the area to be mortised to accommodate the plate in its new position, which should be about an eighth of an inch from its original position. Use a wood chisel for this mortising, working carefully so as not to split the wood outside the mortise.

Funny how most of us won't carve a roast without giving the knife a few swipes with a sharpening steel, but we'll forget about sharpening other tools for long intervals.

Waiting until tools have gone completely dull makes sharpening more of a chore than it need be. A small amount of work with an oilstone, done frequently will keep cutting edges in good condition.

Search on For Contrasts In Home Design

The search is on for contrasts in home design.

How to get contrasting variety without being gaudy or without going into great expense takes ingenuity.

Some designers have solved the problem with the use of amazingly simple techniques, utilizing contrasting colors and textures of wall, ceiling and floor materials for decorative and design effect.

For instance, some designers use rough sawn textures of wood in wall panels, while using smooth finished lumber for door and window framing and for certain built-ins. Or smooth lumber may be used for exposed posts and beams with rough sawn lumber for wall panels.

If wood wall paneling and ceiling decking are used liberally throughout the home, different species with their varied coloring are used in different rooms to avoid monotony. Western red cedar, for example, has dark red and brown autumn coloring, and this contrasts strikingly with the champagne tones of west coast hemlock or with the slightly more golden beige coloring of douglas fir.

Color comes into full play in the finish of walls and ceilings. The lovely, warm natural colors of the woods can be captured in clear plastic finishes, or any of many variations of paint and stain surfaces may be used to create that delicate balance between colors and textures which contribute so much to the beauty of the well designed and finished home.

Tearing Down Won't Build Up

Ohio State University's national collegiate basketball championship — won in a post-season tournament — has complicated the raging battle throughout the Big Ten which has pitted university faculties against athletic directors.

I was Ohio State's faculty vote that swung the recent decision to prohibit Big Ten football teams from playing in the Rose Bowl, chiefly on the grounds that post-season competition constituted overemphasis.

In retaliation, the frustrated athletic directors proposed that all post-season competition be banned. When the exciting Ohio State basketball team won the Big Ten championships, however, even a majority of the faculty seemed willing to make a try for the national title.

OHIO STATE'S trouble seems to stem from the year-in, year-out success of its football teams. They became so good and gained such attention that a segment of the faculty feared the university itself was being shoved into the background and that the school was all facilities, but solely for its football.

Some of the faculty resented this and were willing to tear down football. Thus a faculty of some 2,800 individuals — and only a portion of them, at that — won control of policy affecting some 25,000 students and hundreds of thousands of alumni whose wishes can have no effect.

Policy makers at Ohio State decided, right or wrong, back in 1913 to join the ranks of big-time football by joining the Big Ten. They hired Dr. John W. Wilce from Wisconsin as coach and in 1916, 1917 and 1920 his teams won Big Ten championships, climaxed by a Rose Bowl invitation Jan. 1, 1921.

FOOTBALL became so popular that the 20,000-capacity Ohio Field proved inadequate and the 80,000-seat Ohio Stadium was opened in 1922. The Buckeyes had their ups and downs on the gridiron, but they became a national power under a succession of coaches such as Paul Brown, Carroll Widdoes, Wesley Fesler and Woody Hayes. They played in three more Rose Bowl games in a decade. Until this success became established, the faculty made no attempt to interfere. Now that it has, it is acting as though it wants to revert to the pre-1913 days when football was a minor sport at Ohio State.

Surely the great majority of alumni and of the citizens of Ohio do not endorse that approach.

The middle-of-the-road feeling is that every Ohio State athlete should be made to meet academic requirements to remain eligible to play. There should be no under-the-table financial help. There should be no so-called "athletic bums" eking out a living.

But if football is going to be played, it should be played well. The university should strive, as it has, to provide football players with as good teaching as it provided for the students in its colleges. It should encourage development of its many good students who want to be good athletes, too—such good students as All-American Fesler, Canton Don Scott, Alliance's John Borton, Massillon's Lyn and Jim Huston and the current basketball hero, Jerry Lucas who proclaims that the reason he enrolled at Ohio State was because it was the only school whose coach stressed that he could get a good education, too.

IF OHIO STATE is going to play football, there is nothing wrong with giving its player the thrill of competing in the Rose Bowl as a reward for superiority.

Aside from establishing and enforcing academic requirements, the faculty has no business making policy for the athletic department any more than the football coach should be permitted to select the curriculum for the philosophy department.

Ohio State's faculty should strive to build up public awareness of the fine institution it has for education and research. It should not tear down football simply because it, too, has been successful.

The Virgin Islands is cracking down on its famed sport of turtle racing, dispatches say. For generations this has been a native and tourist attraction. Turtles bore numbers on their backs and betting was lively.

Shudda Haddim says he used to play the turtles. "I was a turtle owner and trainer in my youth," he declares, "and had a good stable. Ever hear of 'Blue Streak' and 'Bullet Boy'?" (We had not.) "They were stand-out turtles. 'Blue Streak' didn't develop good form until he was in his fiftieth year. He won the Tortoise Hoofbeats as a 60-year-old. Four days, 18 hours and seven minutes for the seven fur-longs," he continued. "It was a new track record."

"I got 'Bullet Boy' in a claiming race. Fed him on glow worms and yellow-jackets to make him a fast breaker. It made him one of the speediest turtles that ever crawled. I won a Turtle Derby with him but the judges disqualified him on a claim of foul. Somebody chared he was more than 100 years old."

"The Derby limit is 98 years or under. My turtle was imported and they found initials 'A.L.' for Abe Lincoln on his back."

"He would of won that Derby except that it was a photo and he pulled in his neck at the wire."

"I had another fast turtle, 'The Flash.' He liked to come from behind. The trouble was so few turtles wanted to get ahead. I finally shepended him into quite a sprinter. I got him out of the gate fast by following with a soup-kettle. I won plenty with him but made a fatal mistake. Tried to convert him into a Steeplechaser."

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

is "personal attorney" for still another sport—James R. Hoffa.

It is to Cohen's talents and creative curiosity that this column is dedicated. Those talents and contacts got him $10,000 fees from the Teamsters. They got him a juicy retainer from Jimmy H. himself and a two-million-dollar loan for a real estate project from the Teamsters welfare fund.

For a client like Hoffa, Mr. Cohen really exerted himself. He decided to take a good look at the federal grand jurors now sitting in Orlando, Fla.

THE GRAND JURY is investigating the activities of Hoffa and friends and Teamsters funds in a Florida land scheme.

The lawyer also decided to learn what he could about the witnesses about to appear before that grand jury on the second floor of the Orlando Post Office Building.

The result is an ABI probe into Cohen's own probe of the jury and the witnesses—some of whom might have been scared by all the attention paid them by the private eyes.

This could be intimidation of federal witnesses—upon which the Justice Department doesn't exactly look with a turn-of-the-other-cheek attitude. Especially not when the private eyes were parking themselves in the federal corridor photographing witnesses with tiny cameras which could be palmed in one hand.

To take a good look at the federal investigation, Cohen hired a private investigator, Watson Roper er, Jr., of Miami. The private eye, in turn, hired two fellows up Orlando way.

One was an ex-deputy sheriff. The other was a regional deputy sheriff who never bothered to resign his job—he just took on the extra choice.

During the grand jury session, the ex-deputy, Donald W. Elms, took the pictures. After this contribution to the world of Jimmy Hoffa, the investigators probed the area for anything they could learn about the jurors and the witnesses.

They asked about the panel's and witnesses' religion, their political activities, their credit standings, occupations and labor affiliations and attitudes.

Watson Roper, Jr., private eye, claimed that this information could be easily obtained from public sources.

But the Justice Department's attorney, attached to the Organized Crime Section of the Criminal Division, ordered a probe. He also began taking the witnesses up a back way and threw a security guard around the jury room.

IT IS VERY MUCH part of this tale that one of the witnesses is a retired Teamster, Cuthbert E. Fraser. He bought a lot from the now bankrupt Sun Valley project in which Hoffa was so interested and which is now being probed.

Brother Fraser hoped to live in his retirement among folk he knew, other Teamsters. But there are no others. He is living in the only occupied house in the development near Titusville.

Brother Fraser's lonely grandeur may yet give way to a crowded community—if the proposal of the court-appointed trustee works. The trustee reckons that it would take another $200,000 to give some elderly Teamsters a place in the sun. Just how much this land development and the Ben Cohen probe of the federal probers of the land development has cost the Teamsters few really know.

Cohen's services frequently comes high. For some work done for a small Florida local not too long ago the counselor charged $15,000. Hoffa cut it to $10,000. A real guardian of the people that Hoffa.

Greatest Show

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Party Leaders Troubled by Clowns, Fanatics

We are now in the morning of the day of the greatest show on earth. To draw customers for the main event, the elephants lumber through the downtown streets, monkeys grin at the pop-eyed burghers and clowns whack each other with wind-filled clubs.

But let us keep our blood pressure down and not take too seriously the explosions and indiscretions of the campaign. "If these shadows have offended, think but this, and all is mended." They don't mean it seriously.

In New Hampshire, where nobody was running against anybody, the governor exploded and said that the senator was soft on communism. Then the vice president said he knew the senator and that he wasn't anyhow soft on Communism, leaving himself free to touch on other soft spots if the senator is the candidate.

The Democratic chairman exploded and said that the Navy band wouldn't have been in Rio if the President hadn't been there. Then a Republican senator said that this was an effort "to bloody the hands of the President."

THE CHAIRMAN replied that no such inference was intended but that he was talking about what a band was supposed to do. Since the chairman's boyhood was spent in Indiana where every town had its silver cornet band, he should know what a band is supposed to do.

These are only preliminary skirmishes. If Sen. Kennedy is the nominee, there will be parsons roaring out of piney woods saying that the Pope will be housed in the East Room of the White House and voices from elsewhere will say that Khrushchev and Mao Tse-tung will share the Red Room. This will present a real housing problem.

And if Vice President Nixon is the nominee, there will be orators and hate-Nixon authors telling why Checkers Nixon was a dog of a different color than Fala Roosevelt. And crooners from Las Vegas and Broadway will sing songs about how we must "lick tricky Dick," with fingers snapping and feet shuffling.

No national political party can escape its lunatic fringe. When you split a million voters into two parts, there will be no monopoly of virtue, of taste or of wisdom in either. And since the public seems to be more interested in the scandals and froth than the substance, there will be eager listeners and readers.

Party leaders have their troubles with their clowns and fanatics.

In England, the gentle Attlee and the scholarly Gaskell have been troubled by the woolly left.

In some campaigns the Labor party had to keep Aneurin Bevan out of London. And Churchill and Macmillan always had trouble with Tory lords and squires who would shoot Laborites as they would the surplus rabbits on their estates.

PARTY LEADERS are helpless against such embarrassments. No one can know in advance who will explode in the heat of a campaign or control what he will say.

A party is not an exclusive club. Anybody can join. And in winning an election, every vote counts.

Will Hays, the most competent party chairman of his time, had plenty of trouble, but said, "Politics is assimilation, not elimination." Chairman Farley had little use for some cabinet members with whom he had to serve but never lost his smile and good nature.

That is not to say that the clowns and fanatics are not a potential danger. James G. Blaine was an illustrious statesman and a gentleman but was helpless when in 1884 a fanatical parson shouted, "rum, Romanism and rebellion" in his presence.

Tammany was quick to ascribe the words to Blaine himself and so New York was lost by 1,149 votes, and with it the presidency.

Let us remember that the two candidates this year will be responsible men. When one of them gets to be president, he can purge his party. But he cannot do it in advance. For he cannot know who should be purged and couldn't do it if he did know.

This and That

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

There are some people the Joneses aren't keeping up with. The most popular family names in America rank in this order: Smith, Johnson, Brown, Williams, Jones, Miller, Davis, Anderson, Wilson, and Moore.

Now that spring has finally arrived, you might want to know something about the Eskimos. They have no word for snow. But in our neighborhood we have a number of adjectives for it the children have been forbidden to repeat.

Shaving is a chore enjoyed by men who like to look at themselves in a mirror. To others it is a morning bore. It has been estimated that during his lifetime a man could learn seven languages in the time he spends shaving.

Great thoughts from television: "Love your enemy," says George

De Witt. "I'll drive him nuts!"

Most civilizations have recognized the power and danger in women's vocal cords. The American Indians had a proverb: "A squaw's tongue runs faster than the wind's legs." In old Hawaii women were forbidden to gossip. They easily circumvented this foolish male edict by working out a code they transmitted by beating tapa, a hard bark from which the made cloth.

Prosperity note: The federal government now can spend as much in a single day on the purchase of paper towels as it did to run the country for a year in George Washington's day.

Speaking of Washington, he was as canny a man with a dollar as that early apostle of thrift, Benjamin Franklin. Washington didn't believe in idle cash and once said: "It is not a custom with me to keep money to look at." He put it to work.

Eight-Year-Forecasts

By THOMAS R. HENRY

Forecasts of future weather for more than 30 U.S. cities through the next eight years have just been reported by the former secretary of the Smithsonian Institution.

Dr. Charles G. Abbott, the ex-secretary, based the forecasts primarily on periodic, regularly recurring variations in the heat radiation of the sun.

These variations are reflected and sometimes greatly exaggerated, in earthly weather patterns.

Dr. Abbot's work is based on many years of research on solar phenomena and their affects across 53 million miles of interplanetary space.

THE SUN is a variable star. Its temperature has ups and downs even from day to day. Most of these, however, are extremely small, seldom exceeding 2 per cent.

There are, Dr. Abbot says in a Smithsonian Institution report, approximately 60 so-called "pulses" all occurring in a basic period of 273 months. All of them recur in this period, which might be considered the sun's "year."

There has been little disagreement about the variations in solar radiation. The "pulses" are so slight, however, that there has been considerable scepticism about their terrestrial effects. Ninety-three million miles is a long distance for minute differences to be transmitted.

Weather, moreover, is known to be greatly influenced by purely terrestrial and atmospheric conditions. Lots of things happen between the top of the earth's atmosphere and the back porch thermometer and barometer.

It has been Dr. Abbot's extremely laborious task over many years, in the face of doubts by professional meteorologists, to determine the over-all affects of the solar radiation changes—above and beyond the multiplicity of terrestrial affects.

THE FORECASTS are for these cities:

Abilene and El Paso, Texas; Albany, Ore.; Albany and Rochester, N.Y.; Augusta and Thomasville, Ga.; Bismarck, N.D.; Charleston, S.C.; Cincinnati, Ohio; Denver, Colo.; Detroit, Mich.; Eastport, Me.; Helena, Mont.; Independence, Kan.; Little Rock, Ark.; Madison, Wis.; Montgomery, Ala.; Nashville, Tenn.; Natural Bridge, Ariz.; Omaha, Neb.; Peoria, Ill.; Port Gibson, Miss.; San Bernardino and Sacramento, Calif.; Salisbury, N.C.; Salt Lake City, Utah; Spokane, Wash.; St. Louis, Mo.; St. Paul, Minn. and Washington, D.C.

Variations of as little as 2 per cent in solar conditions, Dr. Abbot points out, may have effects as great as 35 per cent in precipitation at some points on the earth's surface and somewhat lesser effects on temperature.

Midwestern Dems Decline to Commit Selves on Candidate

DETROIT (AP) — Midwestern Democratic leaders with battle banners flying scattered today from a weekend conference that left the nation's heartland wide open territory in the tussle for the party presidential nomination.

They were ready to take on Vice President Richard M. Nixon in the upcoming campaign against the GOP and their own Southern colleagues on the blazing civil rights issue. But for the most part they were unwilling as yet to commit themselves on a Democratic presidential candidate.

Sens. Stuart Symington of Missouri, Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota and John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts came to the 14-state conference courtship support for the nomination. All are top-flight contenders, all got negative results and all went away with no important gains—or losses.

But the three-day rally did touch off sparks that could ignite another one of those roaring North-South feuds at the Democratic National Convention in Los Angeles next July.

There were friendly words for Southern Democrats and disavowals of any intent to drive them into bolting the party. Still, the conference launched without a dissenting voice a drive for a platform plank on civil rights that convention delegates from Dixie couldn't possibly accept.

The Midwestern leaders approved and recommended to the convention a pledge to throw the full power of the White House and Congress behind guarantees to all Americans of equality in voting, schooling, housing and eating at lunch counters.

National Democratic Chairman Paul M. Butler, who often rubs Southerners — and others — the wrong way, gave the whole performance unstinting support. Butler also informally invited loyal Southern Democrats to pick their own delegates to the Los Angeles convention to challenge any rebels who refuse to back the party nominees.

The trio of presidential aspirants had no part in putting across a civil rights proposal packed with political TNT. They had only oratorical roles at the conference, and again at a rally sponsored by the United Auto Workers Union.

Knox School Dance Winners Are Named

Waltz and jitterbug contests were highlights of a dance for fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth graders of Knox School held at the school Friday evening.

Winners of the waltz contest were Judy Allison, a sixth grader, and Ray Dalton, a seventh grader. Winners of the jitterbug competition were Helene Runzo and Richard Davies, both of the seventh grade.

Trophies were awarded to the winners by Mrs. Ellen June Wulf, teacher of the fourth grade, who had assisted Bill Cassidy, instructor at the seven weekly dance classes, which preceded Friday night's session. These couples are now eligible for the district dance contest which will be held in the spring.

Many parents were in attendance at the party to watch the progress of the more than 100 students who participated in the dance classes and the contests.

Following the dance, refreshments were served by Mrs. Eldon Dandy, Mrs. Frederick Schoeni, Mrs. G. H. McDonald and Mrs. Wulf.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I don't commonly bandy words with lady columnists, but when you get into my field, which is the use of words, I must speak out. I am emeritus professor of English at a university.

Your statement that people who use profanity have bankrupt vocabularies is incorrect. I used to have a crazy professor who also asserted this ancient libel but he was wrong—as you are.

I swear passionately and eloquently. I've written 23 books and more than 1,000 short stories. I have an oral vocabulary of 5,000 words, a written vocabulary of 10,000. My reading vocabulary exceeds 20,000.

The use of profanity is a linguistic psychological habit. There is no correlation between cussing and ideas or vocabulary. I have a colleague whose strongest epithet is "Dear Dear" and if he ever had an original idea it would paralyze him.

Thank you for allowing me to have my say.—H.H.K.

Dear Professor: I hate to argue with an authority—BUT my speech experts tell me that profanity:

1. Often reflects a stunned vocabulary.
2. Sometimes points to laziness in speech habits.
3. Is frequently a device to create attention or emphasize a point.

And now from the University of Chicago I get the following

Private Affair

Dear Ann: I need your advice right away. I'm half out of my mind. I just found out I'm pregnant. My fiancé and I are going to get married right away. But what do I tell my friends and family?

Let's face it, when the baby comes they will know the truth. I will be married less than eight months. Should I tell my parents about my condition now or wait? Please, Ann, we are both so upset we can't eat or sleep. Hurry your advice.—RUTH.

Dear Ruth: Have a nice, quiet, quick wedding. Say nothing about the expected baby until you no longer can keep it a secret.

When the baby comes make no apologies, excuses or explanations. It's nobody's business.

Rustler on TV Range

Dear Ann: Who in the home should decide which TV show to watch?

My husband gets up and changes the channel whenever he feels like it. He never asks anyone else in the room what they think. I don't mind that I never get to choose a show but we have an 8-year-old daughter who can watch TV only on Friday and Saturday nights until 10 o'clock. She is interested in educational programs and my husband likes Westerns and crime shows.

Many times she has cried because her Daddy came into the room and turned off a show she was watching. What can I do?—L.J.M.

Dear L.J.M.: You've got two kids. Madame, and that boy acts a lot younger than 8. Since he's so selfish and inconsiderate, try to get the big baby to buy a small portable set for the girl's next birthday or Christmas—

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Celtics Roll Over Hawks 140-122 In NBA Tournament

Winners Paced By Heinsohn

Lopsided Contest Produces 9 Records

BOSTON (AP)—The hot-handed Boston Celtics have caught St. Louis in the middle of a style adjustment to get the jump in the National Basketball Assn. championship playoff series which both clubs figure is going to get much tougher.

Boston romped to a 140-122 get-away victory Sunday which produced nine records, including most points in a game by one team and two in a title playoff contest.

"It was just one of those days," shrugged happy Celtics Coach Red Auerbach who agreed with the Hawks' Ed Macauley that the best-of-seven struggle is far from over. "We couldn't do anything wrong," Auerbach continued. "You don't beat these guys that easily very often."

"Tuesday's second game is the big one," Macauley said. "The fact that we had to travel after playing Minneapolis Saturday and that the Lakers are not a running club like Boston played a part in the outcome."

"I hated to beat them so badly," commented Bill Sharman of the Celtics who got 23 points while Tom Heinsohn had 24. Frank Ramsey 21 and Bob Cousy 20 in the balanced Boston attack. "We caught them when they were tired. They'll get tougher. When we got hot like that we tend to think we can do it any time and it isn't so."

Cousy was the man who released the torrent of Boston points. In the first 4½ minutes of the second period the veteran backcourt wizard directed an outburst when sent the Celtics from a 30-25 lead out to a commanding 47-30 margin. In that span Cousy scored two baskets, assisted on four more, stole the all three times and intercepted a pass.

Texas Girls To Play Beaver Faculty Squad

The Texas Cow Girls, boasting some of the nation's top female basketball talent, will take on a Beaver Local faculty squad at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Beaver Local High School Gym.

The colorful Texas Cow Girls have played in some of the nation's top arenas and gyms, including Madison Square Garden in New York, and Convention Hall in Philadelphia. The team plays an average of 150 games per season and travels over 40,000 miles each year in the United States, Canada, and Mexico.

The flashy group comes onto the floor attired in western boleros, ten gallon hats, holsters and six-shooters. Some of their comedy antics on the basketball court include roping a bashful opponent with a lariat, shooting the referee and blindfold shooting.

Even while clowning, the Texas Cow Girls manage to play a top-notch brand of ball, winning 70 per cent of their games against male opposition. The average age of the girls is 19.

Admission to the game Wednesday is 50 cents for students and $1 for adults.

Three Leaders Replaced In Women's Bowling Tourney

There are new leaders in three of four divisions of the Inter-City Woman's Bowling Association Tournament which completed its sixth weekend of competition Sunday at Timberlans.

In the All Events, Gladys Winkle of Findlay who was last week's leader, slipped all the way to seventh place as six bowlers bettered her total of 1573. Georgienne Eakins of Warren is the new All-Events leader. Her 1625 total is 25-pins better than runner-up Judy Maus of Steubenville.

Two Salem bowlers moved into the top-10 in the All Events. Ethel Bricker rolled her way into fourth place with a 1585. Ruth May is in a tie for fifth with Doris Caldwell of Ravenna at 1582.

THE J & E RECORD Shop of Columbiana was bumped out of first place in the Team Handicap by Bixler's of Fremont. The Fremont squad has a 3026 total, 29 more than the Columbiana outfit which dropped to second place.

El Rio of Warren moved into third place in the Team Handicap. It picked up 2561 actual pins, a new high for the tournament. Its handicap of 426 left it with a 2987. The leader in this event, Bixler's, had a whopping 741 handicap.

Following El Rio in fourth place is Select Dairies of Salem. Another Salem team, Gray Motor Sales, rolled into seventh place last weekend. Hughes Electric of Washingtonville tumbled from fourth place to ninth.

In the Doubles Handicap, Selma Fritz and Evelyn Schue of Elyria took over the top spot with a total of 1245.

Salem Local, Dayton Get Big Welcomes

By The Associated Press

"Welcome home, champs."

Those were the key words voiced in Dayton and Urbana Sunday as Ohio's Class AA and A high school basketball champions returned home from the battles of the state tournament in Columbus. Some 25,000 fans turned out to welcome the heroes, Dayton Roosevelt's Teddies, the Class AA Kings, and Salem Local's Tigers, the small school victors from near Urbana.

Nearly 10,000 persons were on hand at Dayton's Triangle Park to cheer the Teddies as they drove into view. From there a three-mile procession took the team and crowd to Roosevelt High School where Dayton Mayor R. William Patterson proclaimed the Teddies "the greatest basketball team in the history of Dayton."

About a mile from Urbana, as estimated 15,000 fans waited patiently for the arrival of Salem Local's Tigers. When they arrived, the team was escorted into the city in parade fashion. There, at Monument Square, homage was paid by State Auditor James Rhodes to "one of the best teams that has ever won the state championship."

Dayton Roosevelt coach John Woolums expressed optimism that the Teddies could repeat as champions next year. He told the throng at the high school, referring to the championship trophy: "It's the first on the list for me. We've struggled for it for many years."

"As for me," the Class AA coach of the year went on, "I've no intention of retiring. We're coming back up here (to Columbus) next year."

Robert Kline, president of the Dayton Board of Education, praised the Teddies as performing "a difficult task in a wonderful manner . . . they have displayed the stick-to-itiveness that wins."

But by far the biggest ovation went to Arne D. Holmbo, Roosevelt principal, when he announced there will be no school Monday in honor of the Teddies' triumph.

State Auditor Rhodes told Salem's Tigers, "St. John Arena (site of the state tourney) has never seen a team that has shown better sportsmanship than your team . . . I congratulate you from the state of Ohio."

Tiger mentor Bill Hupp, named Class A coach of the year by the Associated Press, said he felt "very humble being the coach of this team."

He added: "It is sure is nice to win, especially if you win more than you lose."

Cleveland Training News Is Negative

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—News from the Cleveland Indians training camp had a negative flavor today — shortstop Woody Held, back from Mayo Clinic, still can't swing a bat; General Manager Frank Lane sends word from Miami he can't trade off Russ Nixon; and big Walt Bond has begun striking out on curves.

On the positive side, however, there's the pitching of Carl Thomas, the 6-foot-4, 245-pound rookie from right here in Tucson. He ran his string of scoreless innings to 13 Sunday as the Indians lost to the Chicago Cubs 3-2. The 27-year-old right-hander blanked the Cubs over three innings in his first Cactus League appearance, hurled one scoreless frame against the San Francisco Giants and shut out Boston for four innings.

Held said the doctors at Mayo Clinic "seemed to think everything was all right." A report on the examination Lane ordered will not arrive for a few days. Held, who needed 42 stitches in his back during an operation on an infected mole two weeks ago, can't use his left shoulder muscles yet but has started limited workouts.

Lane, who expects to remain in Florida all this week, said Bucky Harris, Boston general manager, has refused his offer of Nixon for outfielder Mary Keough and catcher Haywood Sullivan along with Jim Marshall, who now has gone to Scottsdale to join the Red Sox.

Bond went down swinging Sunday at judgmental thrown by southpaw Seth Morehead. Manager Joe Joe Gordon sent Bond in to pinch-hit in the seventh inning. Bond struck out Saturday, 599, demonstrating a weakness on curve balls. Previously he had been hitting sensationally and hadn't fanned at all.

Tokyo — E.T.O. Sanong, 115, Thailand, and Akira Oguchi, 119, Japan, drew, 10.

Pirates Blank Senators 4-0

Reds, Cardinals, White Sox Win

By The Associated Press

A minor baseball miracle is taking place at Fort Myers, Fla., where Diomedes Olivo, a 40-year-old rookie pitcher, is trying to earn a berth with Pittsburgh's Pesky Pirates.

Picked up from Poza Rica of the Mexican League, Olivo impressed again Sunday by pitching one-hit for two innings in his exhibition debut as Pittsburgh blanked Washington 40 for its 11th consecutive victory.

Olivo compiled a 21-8 record in the double A Mexican circuit last season. He appeared in 35 games, completed 23 of 30 starts, worked 247 innings, struck out 233, walked only 61 and turned in a 3.02 earned run average.

Despite Olivo's age, Pirate Manager Danny Murtaugh decided to take a look at the 6-foot-1, 195-pound native of the Dominican Republic. He may be just the man to spell relief specialist Roy Face.

Olivo's pitched creditably in most of his intrasquad workouts and showed a hopping fast ball in his first official outing for the Pirates, who haven't lost since dropping their first three games.

Other fine pitching performances were turned in Sunday by St. Louis' Vinegar Bend Mizell, who went nine innings and beat Detroit 3-1 on a five-hitter, and Cincinnati's Jim Brosan, a 43-year-old Milwaukee with a six-inning, nine-inning job.

In other games, Chicago's White Sox edged Philadelphia 7-6, Baltimore defeated New York 3-1, San Francisco beat Boston 6-3, Kansas City nipped Los Angeles 3-2 and Chicago's Cus whipped Cleveland 3-2.

'Big O' Expected To Join NBA Team

NEW YORK (AP)—Oscar Robertson, the Big O of college basketball, will do his pro playing for a National Basketball Assn. club, undoubtedly Cincinnati, rather than the Harlem Globetrotters.

That was the word today from George Smith, coach of the three-time All-America who graduates from the University of Cincinnati this spring with a degree in business administration.

Oscar was not in a talkative mood regarding his future basketball plans after starring in a losing cause in the East's 67-66 victory over the West in the New York Herald Tribune's Fresh Air Fund All-Star Game Saturday.

But Smith, who coached the Western team, said: "I think I know Oscar. He is not concerned with a fantastic salary as the Globetrotters figure to offer him. He wants a home, security and a chance to build a future. As you know he is getting married in June."

"He figures the Globetrotters wouldn't offer him all of that since the team is constantly on the go. With the NBA he'll be able to set up a home and possibly go into the business of selling real estate and insurance in the off season."

The Cincinnati Royals have first call on Robertson as the NBA as a territorial selection.

Ohioan Wins Trophy In Bowling Tourney

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—One Ohioan, John Altig of Ohio U., was among seven men capturing trophies Sunday in the second annual Inter-collegiate Bowling Championships.

Altig and Robert Killian of Michigan State finished second in doubles with 412-410-358-1180. Each of them hit 590.

Doubles winners were Jerry Constantino of Bradley and Eugene Wodka of Illinois with 400-469-380-1249. Constantino won the all-events with 1189, and Wodka was second in singles with 338. The singles title went to Jim Nixon of Minnesota on 211-181-212-604.

Twenty collegians competed on the American Bowling Congress tournament lanes. They represented survivors from roll-offs involving some 6,000 bowlers in 80 schools.

Wampum, Pa., Coach to Speak At Goshen Athletic Banquet

L. Butler Hennon, head basketball coach at Wampum, Pa., High School, will be the main speaker at the annual Goshen Union Athletic Banquet to be held at Goshen High School Friday at 7 p.m.

Hennon's cagers last week wrapped up the Pennsylvania Class B basketball championship by tripping Montrose 57-51. Wampum was also state champs in 1955 and 1958. His teams have lost only four league games while winning 144 in the last 10 years.

Hennon has been a successful coach at the tiny Western Pennsylvania school for 26 years. His gimmicks and coaching methods have won national acclaim. He has produced at least one All-State player for the past eight years and has coached several boys who made All-American teams in College.

Besides serving as coach, Hennon is chief administrator of the Wampum-Big Beaver Joint School District.

The Goshen Booster Club is sponsoring Coach Hennon's appearance at the all-sports banquet Friday. The Goshen High School Athletic Association will present special awards to players voted most outstanding by their teammates.

All senior athletes will receive awards from the Booster Club.

Salem Scores 1/3 Point In Track Meet

Rick Sulea's five-way tie for fifth place in the pole vault allowed the Salem Quakers to break into the scoring column with one-third point in the Tri-State Track Coaches Assn. annual indoor track and field meet held Saturday at Schoonmaker Hall in South Park, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Five other Columbiana County trackmen who qualified in the prelims a week ago failed to place in the finals. They were Charlie Horn of Salem in the pole vault, John Hiner of Salem and Jerry Bush of East Palestine in the 50-yard hurdles and George Morris of East Palestine and Larry Barnhouse of Columbiana in the 50-yard dash.

Sulea cleared 10 feet to gain his fifth place tie in the pole vault. The winning height for the event was 12 feet.

Mount Lebanon, Pa., High School won the meet, chalking up 48 points. Clairton, Pa., was runner-up with 32 counters. Mansfield was the top-placing Ohio team. The Tigers registered 18 points, good enough for fourth place. Salem tied with Ferndale-Dale, Pa., for 26th place.

College Stars Will Meet AAU Team

DENVER (AP)—The big stars of college basketball, including four Associated Press All-Americans, are matched against Bartlesville's (Okla.) veteran AAU team in one of the four games opening the Olympic trials here Thursday night.

Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson, West Virginia's Jerry West, California's Darrall Imhoff and Tony Jackson of St. Johns (N.Y.) head the dream cast of the NCAA university all star team coached by Pete Newell of California.

They'll battle such AAU greats as Red Murrell (Drake), Burdie Halderson (Colorado), George Lee (Michigan), Tom Robitaille (Rice), Paul Neumann (Stanford), Les Lane (Oklahoma), Jerry Shipp (Southeast Oklahoma), who form the core of Bartlesville's team, champion of the National Industrial League.

The other three games bring together the rest of the nation's greatest amateur talent, trying out for the 12 berths on the United States Olympic team that plays in Rome late this summer.

Ohio State's NCAA champions, including All-America Jerry Lucas, go against the small college stars from the National Athletic Intercollegiate Assn. (NAIA) coached by Milton Jowers of Southwest Texas.

Peoria, champion of the AAU tournament here last week, meets another collection of NCAA all stars coached by Ard McCutchan of Evansville (Ind.) College, who steered his team to the NCAA Small College Division title.

The other opening contest sends Akron (Ohio) Wingfoots, runner-up to Peoria in the AAU, against the Armed Forces All Stars.

Youth Conference Attended by 7,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — If there is anything wrong with the young generation, the adults of this country have only themselves to blame.

That sentiment, expressed by speaker after speaker, set the tone today as 7,000 delegates to the White House Conference on Children and Youth swung into their first full day's work. The meetings continue through Friday.

The cure for what ails youth, they said, must be found by youth, the moral sickness of their elders.

"The basic problem of the young is not complicated, it is the apathy and perfidy and poor examples of the adult generations," said Miriam D. Hanks of Salt Lake City, an elder of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

Elder Hanks' theme, in a speech prepared for one of the five assemblies during the day's activities, was echoed by Prof. Abraham Heschel of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America in New York.

Stuttler Cleared By Appeals Court

LISBON — A 1958 burglary conviction against Louis Stuttler, former East Liverpool policeman, has been thrown out by the 7th District Court of Appeals. County Prosecutor G. William Brokaw learned today.

Stuttler was convicted of entering the Burbick Hardware store at East Liverpool in 1954, the common pleas court jury basing its verdict largely upon a fingerprint smudge found at the store four years after the entering.

Stuttler was one of five officers and two ex-special officers indicted in 1956-57 for a series of burglaries.

The prosecutor said today he is uncertain whether to appeal the new ruling to the State Supreme Court.

Reasons for the reversal are included in the court's opinion which did not accompany the request to make a docket entry on the action.

Senate

and health and welfare funds, ruthless denial of democratic procedures, and outright betrayal of rank and file members were clearly established," the committee charged.

It said Hoffa had bargained away wages and other benefits. Midwestern Teamsters might have received, then undermined Teamsters wage levels in New York so his Midwestern contracts wouldn't look too bad.

Hoffa said he always got for the Teamsters the best contracts in the whole collective bargaining field. The committee said this claim has been exploded.

The committee said Hoffa's own testimony "taken as a whole is unworthy of belief." It called it "a practically unfathomable mixture of ambiguity, verbosity, audacity and mendacity."

In the Service

VILLAGE WITHOUT WATER

JEFFERSON, Ohio (AP)—Rock Creek, a village of 670 ten miles southwest of here, was left without water early Sunday after three teenage boys opened the town's four fire hydrants as a prank.

Nearly all of Rock Creek's 100,000-gallon supply rushed into the streets before the hydrants were shut-off. Police arrested the boys at their homes and held them for juvenile authorities.

OHIO FIVE - DAY FORECAST

SOME DISH — A gift intended for Princess Grace of Monaco, this hand-cut crystal bowl is displayed by a beauty in Paris.

Growing Crime Menace Cited By Probers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Labor-Management Committee charged today a "crime syndicate" is extending sinister and mounting power across the nation in a plot to rule the economy.

The committee's four Democratic members called for creation of a vast new federal police intelligence agency to crush the scheme.

The four Republican members vigorously opposed that proposal, contending it smacked too strongly of the national secret police idea.

They said it could lead to grave abuse of innocent persons; that it might itself become a handy aid to corrupt officials in league with the underworld, and might actually impede the Justice Department's current war on crime.

The bipartisan committee was unanimous, however, in findings that:

1. "The grip of hoodlums and racketeers on the American economy continues to grow."

2. James R. Hoffa, international president of the Teamsters Union, is an ally of some of the mobsters in the report denounced.

3. Alliance with corrupt labor leaders is a major tool used to further the alleged conspiracy.

The committee's findings were in the third installment of a four-volume report to the Senate on its 1959 investigations. The committee's authority expires Thursday, but a move is afoot to extend these powers until Jan. 31, or shift them to another group.

Unanimously, the eight senators said some congressional committee should wage a continuing search for better means to cope with the menace of gangster rule they contend their own inquiry has uncovered.

Teamsters

Bender quit his $250-a-day Teamster job, later cut to $125 — early this year without making public any recommendations or report.

He has since become a candidate for candidate-at-large to the GOP National Convention, running against the organization slate.

"The committee has no confidence that this Hoffa-inspired commission will accomplish anything in the way of purging criminals and racketeers from their positions of power at all levels of the Teamster organization," the report said.

"The committee regards it as nothing more than expensive window dressing for which thousands of dollars of Teamster money already has been spent."

Red Cross Gets $600

At East Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — A house-to-house canvass here Saturday netted $600 for the Red Cross fund drive.

Charles W. Kelley is chairman of the drive.

FINED BY MAYOR

TO GET $5,000 AWARD

EATON, Ohio (AP)—The Preble County District Library, a recent consolidation of six small libraries, is slated to get a $5,000 award next Sunday. The American Library Assn. picked the library for its Fisher Award, for excellent service on limited funds. Author John P. Marquand is scheduled to present the award here.

TO ADDRESS ROTARY

"Music and Worship" will be the topic of an address by the Rev. William C. Snowball, pastor of the First Methodist Church, to fellow Rotarians Tuesday noon at the Memorial Building.

3 Motorists Cited After Accidents

Three motorists were charged with traffic violations, as the result of weekend traffic accidents investigated by Lisbon State Patrolmen.

Charged with reckless operation were David MacIntosh, 19, Wellsville, and Thomas Mecure, 21, RD 1, New Waterford.

Patrolmen said MacIntosh lost control of his car Sunday at 7:20 p.m. on Rt. 30 and ran into an embankment six miles west of Wellsville.

Mecure reportedly lost control of his car on Rt. 9, three miles south of Salem at 11:10 p.m. Saturday. The car slid left of center and hit a utility pole roadside, patrolmen said. He was not injured.

Thomas Campbell, 32, of Negley, was charged with failure to stop in the assured clear distance Saturday at 2:45 p.m. after his car collided with one driven by John Berchtold, 58, Columbiana. Patrolmen said Berchtold was making a right turn at the time on Rt. 104, a half-mile south of Columbiana.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Dragging of the Little Miami River was resumed early today for the bodies of two brothers of the Milford Novitiate, who drowned Sunday when their boat upset. The Catholic novitiate is 16 miles northeast of Cincinnati.

The Rev. Paul Allen, S. J., rector identified the victims as Brother Roland Weiskittel, S. J., 23, Olmsted Falls, near Cleveland, and Brother John Hiryok, N. S. J., 22, Warren, Ohio.

A third man in the boat, Brother Richard Little, S. J., 21, Warren, Ohio, swam to shore.

The accident occurred near the home of Leroy Olson, who said the boat overturned in water where the current is swift.

Father Allen said Brother Hiryok was knocked from the boat by tree limbs extending over the water. He was able to stand in the shallow water, but when the other brothers tried to pull him back into the boat it capsized.

Then brothers Weiskittel and Hiryok were swept into deep water and disappeared, according to information reaching Father Allen.
